

Vedic management principles are based on Individual, Social, National and Universal Principles

➤ 89% of respondents agree that Vedic general management principles are based on individual, social, national and universal principles, while 7% of the respondents remained neutral, remaining 4% of the respondents do not agree with the statement.