

- 9 of 10 respondents cite 'greed mitigation' as a major element of Vedic Principles that can help achieve personal excellence.
- 8 of 10 respondents cite 'peaceful workplace environment' as a major element of professional excellence that accrues from personal excellence.

B : Conclusion

- The principles and tenants drawn from the four Veda's by the individuals in our country are based on Sanathana Dharma and have been practicing the same to reap rich personal excellence
- Adhering to the Vedic Principles enable the individuals to achieve inner peace, harmony and spiritual well-being.
- The research work effectively captured these phenomenon by eliciting strategic information from the three categories of respondents.